

Hello Peru

Peru, in western South America, extends for nearly 1,500 mi along the Pacific Ocean. Colombia and Ecuador are to the north, Brazil and Bolivia to the east, and Chile to the south. Five-sixths the size of Alaska, Peru is divided by the Andes Mountains into three sharply differentiated zones. To the west is the coastline, much of it arid, extending 50 to 100 miles inland. The mountain area, with peaks over 20,000 ft, lofty plateaus, and deep valleys, lies centrally. Beyond the mountains to the east is the heavily forested slope leading to the Amazonian plains. The coastal region of Peru is cool for its latitude and quite dry year-round. Temperatures are warmest during the summer months (January to March) and there is also a moderate wet season here from December until May.

Places to Visit

Peru – Lima, Macchu Pichu, Cuzco, Arequipa, Puno (Lake Titicaca – highest navigable in the world)

Visa

Not required (if USA resident with other non USA Passport)

Vaccination

Not required

Currency

1.00 USD = 3.07100 Nuevo Sol

Departure tax

Peru International $31 (aprox)
Domestic $7 – for each airport

Notes on Price Grid:

Land = Land Only. Prices are per person. Land only does not include airfares, but does include all other features mentioned on each package. Holiday supplements may apply.

Sgl Sup = Single Supplement for land only.

Land supplements may apply during holiday periods and/or Special events dates.